The web page should be archived in a zip file. All HTML files should be placed into the root folder. The archive can contain external files and resources - they should be placed either into the same folder as HTML files, or into a sub-folder.

Useful File Names:

- index.html Main file of the template, the entry point of your Landing Page.
- account.html The page user sees after a successful login.

If your page contains a login form, its action should be set to "?login", so all password-capturing mechanisms will work properly.

Note: If you upload a site that is not W3C conform it won't be saved. Here is a simple example of an archive file that gives you an idea of how the webpage can be saved in order to work for the upload.

Import an Email

You can upload an Email template within the message template section.
